—The Elsinore News says: The tender feet want the earth, and it has come to such a pass that a man is afraid to put a price upon his lot lest it be gobbled up from under him.

Trout Eggs.

Measrs Stephens & McKenney, who are running the Tahoe hatchery at the Lake for Cap. Todman, have secured about 450,000 eggs. They catch the trout, secure the eggs and then send them to Tahoe City, where they are hatched out. They are also furnishing eggs for Fish Commissioner Cary, and have sent him over 200,000 eggs this season.

The largest portion of all the eggs furnished by Stephens & McKenney will be planted in this State. Their headquarters are at the foot of the Marlett & Folsom incline.

The Ball Game.

The big baseball game tomorrow will attract a tremendous crowd, and numbers of people are coming from Virginia City and Reno to witness it. All of Dayton, Genoa and Empire will be here, and the sports are backing the Carson club from the jump. The APPEAL has engaged a special reporter to spread the record before the public.

ALL NORTH.

—Wizard Oil at Geo. Thaxter's.
—There is a prospect of another rain storm.

—A Democratic newspaper is talked of in Reno.

—Lewis Morrison will probably visit Carson before long.

—Senator Briggs, who was quite sick in San Francisco, is up again.

—John Sweeny is hard at work getting the Fair grounds in order.

—For Sale.—A large roomy residence in the Western part of the city. Fine location. Apply at this office.

—Washoe Lake has fallen three feet in the last few weeks, and is so full of weeds that it is hard to tell where the Lake is.

—One of the Wild West shows in Iowa used the wrong revolvers and managed to kill each other. The innovation takes.

—Mr. H. P. Cohen, for many years the business manager of the Enterprise, has secured a similar position on the San Francisco Alta.

—Miss Jane Tritle, daughter of ex-Governor Tritle, will be married to Eugene J. Spencer, of the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, at Prescott, Arizona, on the 28th inst.

—Joe Sing a Chinaman who was on the witness stand in San Francisco a few days ago swore that he was an American citizen, naturalized in Cincinnati, and voted for Tilden in 1876.

—There is a woman in Dakota who is successfully working a one hundred-and-sixty-acre farm, and she declares that she could work one twice as large if the men who want to marry her would quit bothering her.

—There will be pool-selling at the Hole-in-the-Wall on Saturday evening, July 23rd, on the great match game for $1,000 between the Resolute Baseball "nine," of Virginia, and the Amateur "nine," of Carson. Also on Sunday forenoon.

—To keep moths out of a piano, put pieces of gum camphor about the size of a walnut, wrapped in tissue paper, in the interior corners of the instrument. It will gradually evaporate and must be renewed once or twice a year. Moths attack the red cloth used in the construction of the piano, and its renewal is expensive.

—They have lots of fun in Court at Grass Valley, Cal. Frank Vaughn was arrested for disturbing a Grand Army meeting, two days were consumed in getting a jury, during the trial Justice Wadsworth fined the District Attorney three times, $10 a clatter, for contempt of Court and finally ordered him imprisoned for twelve hours, but the District Attorney defied the Judge to write a commitment, the Jury then disagreed, and when the Tidings went to press, the fine had not been paid, neither had the District Attorney been imprisoned.

The Second Floor Gambling Law.

The trial in a Virginia City Court under the second floor ordinance law, opens an old sore. Some years ago the law removed all faro games to the second floor. The gamblers evaded the law by building a small floor, a few steps above the first. The present case against Patterson and Gregory is to test the question of what a second floor is.

Curiously enough, the framers of the law were two sharp gamblers of Virginia City. They quietly secured a five years' lease of all available second floors on C street, where a faro game could be run. Then they secured the passage of the law which drove all the sports up stairs into the rooms leased by the clever jobbers. The rent they were compelled to pay was enormous. The sports saw the little game, and evaded the law by the temporary sham floor. It busted the two schemers wide open.

Meeting of the Idaho Press

There is to be a meeting of the Idaho press at Great Shoshone Falls on Wednesday, August 10, for the purpose of discussing the question of segregation and annexation. The meeting bids fair to be one of great importance.

A NARROW ESCAPE

An Eureka Miner Seventy-eight Hours Entombed.

The Eureka Sentinel tells the following:

H. K. Mitchell, Esq., went out on horseback to the Ruby Hill Tunnel on Sunday last, and on his arrival there found that Dennis Crowley, who has a contract for work in the tunnel, was absent. On the door of the cabin, however, was hanging a frying pan, with the bottom outward. Written on this with a stem of a clay-pipe, was the following startling announcement. "Mike Lyons has been caved on in the Dougout mine. I have gone to dig him out. He has not been seen since Thursday. Tell A. Jackson." As soon as Mr. Mitchell read this he hurried to Ruby Hill and Eureka and gave the alarm. Several miners hastened to the place of the accident and then found Pat O'Keefe, Dennis Crowley, Martin Piantouji and Charles McDonald had been working all the day to liberate Lyons from his perilous imprisonment. The arrival of the fresh recruits relieved these men, and at 6 o'clock P. M., he was liberated, after being entombed from Thursday at noon, until Sunday at 6 o'clock P. M., 78 hours.

Lyons, after taking two drinks of whisky, stated that he had not suffered from hunger nor thirst, but that he felt chilled during the confinement. He then walked to O'Keefe's cabin and said that he felt hungry, and thought it was time to get a bite to eat. He asked if it was not Sunday, and thought he had kept run of the time very well.

A Real Estate Difference.

Carson is full of people who fail to comprehend the present condition of real estate in this city. They imagine that everything is going to the dogs, because they listen to the growing and fault-finding of the old bums and failures who are walking about town to save funeral expenses. Let them go down Main Street and attempt to purchase a piece of real estate and they will soon realize that ground in Carson is not considered a drag on the market.

The town is full of men who think if they could only sell out here and go to Reno, they would materially better their condition. Let these people look at the following figures and see just how much better off they would be.

There is a business house in Reno a brick building that is valued at $9,000. It is rented for $75 a month. This is three fourths of one per cent a month. There is a building in this city valued at $2,000 which rents for $60 a month, which is 3 per cent. per month on the investment. The Carson building is always rented, and the Reno building is empty several months in the year.

Mr. Kersey, the real estate dealer informed the writer yesterday that he had ten applications to purchase property on Main street. These applications were from men with idle money on their hands, who wanted to make a sure investment. We make the statement that no one can successfully refute, that no better real estate investment can be found in Nevada than on Main St. Carson City.

Ask any man who has ever so invested and see if he is not more than satisfied. Go to Reno where a fictitious boom is being worked up and you are requested to pay about twice as much for property as the returns for the investment warrants. If $2,000 will earn 3 per cent. a month in Carson and $9,000 only earns three fourths of one per cent. a month in Reno, where does Reno's superiority as a town, over Carson, come in? We forward this nut to the Reno papers and they can crack it at their leisure.

Took Two Years' Time.

We have not had a copy of the Salt Lake Democrat this week. What's the matter, Bro. Dennis.—Independent.

From what we can learn, the Salt Lake Democrat has suspended publication. There was no room for the Democrat in Salt Lake, yet it cost the proprietors $25,000, and took two years' time to find it out.

—Eight dead rats were lately found while cleaning out the reservoir of the Reno Water Company.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS

—A female real estate agent is Pomona's latest addition.

—Indians on the San Carlos Reservation are expert cattle thieves.

—The Southern Pacific road has finished grading to Santa Barbara.

—Two men were killed by an explosion in a quarry near Socorro, N. M. Wednesday.

—Nevada county has voted $1,000 to secure satisfactory exhibits of fruit and minerals at the Mechanics Institute and State Fairs.

—Harry Pierce, the young man who had his leg cut off in a thrashing machine near San Bernardino Tuesday, died in terrible agony Thursday evening.

—R. P. Clarke, aged sixty-four years, attempted suicide at San Bernardino Wednesday, after having been detected in an assault upon a nine-year-old girl.

—There is a complaint at Los Angeles that the Assessor has discriminated in his assessments in favor of large land holders, and the small owners have to suffer in consequence.

—The body of Mrs. Acosta was exhumed at Stockton Wednesday for the purpose of investigating traces of poisoning, which it is charged was administered by a man called "Political Dick."

—Three children were playing at Auburn, Placer county, Wednesday when a gun in the room was knocked down and discharged, the load blowing away the right side of the face of the three-year-old son of Dr. Hawyer.

—The real estate assessments of Los Angeles County, outside of the town and city lots, amounts to $44,700, 574, an increase over the last year's assessment of 27,802,886. On town and city lots the figures are $38,681,275, an increase over last year of $24,406,034. In addition to this enormous increase of real estate returns the personal property roll shows an increase since last year of nearly $3,000,000.

—William Schmidt, whose recent effort to escape from Folsom is still in the minds of our readers, attempted to assassinate Warden John McComb yesterday, but was prevented by the Warden covering him with a pistol and ordering him to throw up his hands, in which position he was secured. It is believed that Schmidt wanted to be removed to some other prison, where his chances for escape were better, and he was willing to commit murder to secure the removal.

An Important Discovery.

We learn from Col. Joseph Grandelmeyer, who came in private conveyance from White Pine on Sunday last, that on the day previous to his leaving there, Saturday, two miners who were at work in the Stafford mine, broke through a contact of lime and shale, in which they discovered a well defined vein of free milling quartz and chloride ore. Samples were taken, and from the size of the assay buttons he judged that they assayed about $300 to the ton. He said that this is regarded as the most important discovery that has been made in that district since the famed period of the Eberhardt mine, as it has effectually floored all the theories of experts, that "no contact vein could live in Treasure Hill." Col. Grandelmeyer claims that this is an intact vein of ore, with a shale hanging-wall and a limestone foot-wall.

Good News from Washington.

The following dispatch received at the Land Office yesterday, explains itself:

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.

Hon. John E. Jones.—List covering nearly sixty thousand acres passed upon and awaiting signature of General Sparks. Lists covering two hundred thousand acres to be acted upon immediately, and the rest as soon as received. Forward all Non-Mineral affidavits now on hand in your office to the Department especially governing Sections per lists of Carson District reaching number sixty, and of Eureka of same number; also all others as soon as possible. Nevada interests demand this.
